What the Boys are Doing Here and There

Raymond Saibini, who has been in the deep south undergoing training as an invasion Military Policeman, has changed his address and now has the familiar A.P.O attached to his outfit.

Pvt. Gino Giovannoni, who is with the air force near Fresno, took advantage of a 24 hour pass to rush home for a brief visit with his wife and local friends. Gino is scheduled for a technical school soon. Army life seems to agree with him.

Sgt. Bob Bowers writes to complain over the treatment we are receiving from the powers that be in Nevada City who declined to permit any of the few pressure cookers to be allocated to local women for canning and says: "It's too bad local voters didn't have enough confidence in themselves to think they could handle their own government. Perhaps then things might be different." Then Bob who is with the air force at Boise, has a word to say regarding the action concerning Donner Lake. Says the sergeant: "I see where those companies in Nevada are trying to put one over on us and spoil the scenic beauty of our beautiful Donner Lake. Im in favor of waging a war on those who wish to fill their treasuries with money gained by spoiling our gifts of nature. You, know, Walt, you really don't appreciate those gifts Mother Nature bestowed upon our part of the country until you have seen how barren and uninteresting land can be without trees, lakes, etc. And to those who doubt that the proposed project would affect the beauty very much, have them visit Lake Independence in the late fall. I sincerely hope that Donner shall never suffer the same fate."

From a west coast A.P.O. comes an interesting letter from Pvt. V. A. Sassarini, who appreciates getting the home town paper more than ever now he is on foreign soil. Augie is an aerial radio operator with a bomber squardon and says it's really a swell outfit with interesting work and that he is perfectly satisfied with his lot. He asked to be remembered to all his friends here.

Frank and Laura Gaiennie have a letter from their son, Daryl, who enclosed a picture taken on one of the islands of the South Pacific where he is gainfully employed with the Sea-Bees. The picture showed Daryl with a Jap machine gun in one hand, a Jap rifle in the other and between his feet the skull of a late Jap soldier. Said Daryl in his letter: "All of these accessories formerly belonged to the 'gentlemen' who are offering their hospitality to Tommy Shone—if you know what I mean." Tommy Shone a local boy, is a prisoner of the Japs in Bataan and a brother in law of young Gaiennie.

Pvt. Philip Kearney writes that he and Fred Otis finally located each other in far-off New Guinea. Each had heard from the home folks that the other was over there someplace. Afetr several tips and some correspondence they found they were not so far apart. Phil went to Otis' unit and received a royal welcome from his olassmate. Fred being in the QM was able to give him a sumptuous dinner which was greatly appreciated. They had not seen each other since they graduated from the local high school seven years ago. They parted with a vow that they would meet again at the alumni banquet in 194?. Phil had just returned from special duty deep in the jungles.

Letters and wires to parents and friends reported the glad tidings that Bob Leamon escaped the ill-fated U.S.S. Helena, which he termed the Happy Helena, without a scratch.

Pvt. August Esola who is with the armoured infantry in a California station, was home last week and looked like the army job is agreeing well with him.

From Florida comes word that Angelo Besio has now qualified as a third class pharmacist's mate, following completion of his course there.

SeaBee Carl Keck, now in training in Camp Endicott, Rhode Island is enthused with his branch of the service. Carl formerly worked on the highway here.

Lt. Herman Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Owens, is now stationed with the signal corps in New Jersey, according to word received here.

Mrs. Dan Smith and Mrs. Rose Kielhofer returned this week from a visit with Sgt. Karl Kielhofer, who has been stationed at Fort Ord.

When R. J. Giovanini, 53, of Auburn visited Sage Hen Creek Sunday he didn't intend to fish so failed to purchase a license. However, the sight of trout in the water proved a temptation too great to resist, he explained to Game Warden Bill LaMarr who came by just as Giovanini tried his luck.

When he appeared gefore Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith a short time later, Giovanini posted a $10 bail.

UNIQUE SCENES ARE ENJOYED BY LOCAL COUPLE ON HIKE

Watching delicate flowers bloom through the snow and fishing for trout through a hole in an ice-covered lake and viewing the Sacmento Valley and the Pacific Ocean nearly 200 miles distant were some of the unique experiences enjoyed Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luck, who selected the Needle Point Lake district in the vicinity of Tinker's Nob for their usual weekend fishing trip.

Mrs. Luck described the six-mile hike and the wonders viewed as the most beautiful she had ever experienced. She said they actually watched orchid-like flowers spread their pedals as the snow melted away from the buds. At the lake, Mrs. Luck reported all but a small section was frozen over. They returned with 23 fine trout.

STORK OVERTAKES CRACK S.P. TRAIN ON SIERRA ROUTE

That wise old bird, the stork sure picked a beautiful location to make his delivery of a seven pound baby boy to Mrs. G. A. Willis of Akron, Ohio and when the boy grows up to be president and is called upon to recite his history, he may well claim anywhere between Norden and Truckee as his birth-place.

As No. 22, the Southern Pacific's limited sped down the Donner grade last Thursday, George Uomini, the brakeman was informed that the stork was flying close by. He notifed Conductor Arthur H. Moran who hustled Mrs. Willis into the ladies room and then went in search of a doctor. Unable to find a doctor, he returned with Miss Doris Brokaw, an army nurse from the Canal Zone, who administered to the mother and her son.

When the train reached Truckee, Dr. J. H. Bernard was summoned and while the train waited, he gave his professional approval to the work done by Miss Brokaw and the train went on to Reno where the mother was taken to a hospital.

It may be trite, but we reiterate that trains are surely busy these days

My Place In The Sun

By CORP. DOUG BARRETT

(Excerpts from letters from some where in the Alaska Theater).

Now that you know how I happened to get in the army a year ago the 29th, I'll tell you a little incident connected with my assignment to the air corps. When I was in classification, they asked me what branch of the service I'd prefer. I didn't care and with my hill-billy background, they suggested the mountain infantry, you know Bud Zorich's outfit. Well, I decided I'd had enough of the snow and cold for a while and the idea didn't appeal to me a bit. I said so, so they put me in the air corps and eventually sent me— the boy who wanted to get away from the snow and cold for a while—to the coldest spot in the North American Continent and the mountain regiment, when I last heard was where? California! My error, chums, my error.

Bob Bowers wrote me from Bolse. He seems to be quite taken with his station. He's a lucky fellow and I think knows it.

Saw some pictures at a movie last night of American operations in our end of the world. They were taken near where Earl Edmunds was stationed and anyone that stood up under what those birds did surely deserve a break some place along the line. Believe me, it was rough. Just let me hear any of the old timers saying that this generation is a bunch of softies. Just let me hear it, don't stick around to hear what I have to say back, 'cause what I tell them would make a clock stop.

Well, Unc is going to be wondering what has happened to his corporal and when Unc wonders he usually finds out, so I'll close now and get on with my work.

Official criticism has been raised against an expression used in press reports which decribed the monarch of Italy as the "moronic" king. It appears that the time has come to stop name calling at our enemies and start to think of them as our pals. Funny old world, this. But at least we may find solace in the apparent fact that in Washington we do have someone to keep us advised when the spots of the leopard change.

Already we are receiving some very encouraging cooperation in the plan we announced a short time ago to make preparations for a Centennial Observance of the Donner Party tragedy which marked one of the most vivid steps in the history of California and which should by all means be remembered in 1946, providing the war is successfully concluded by that time. The state chamber of commerce has evidenced an interest in the proposal and we believe the Native Sons, the California Historical Society and other similiar organizations will find the idea most timely. There are many recently located sites which should be marked at that time and if the work of historians and trail markers is to be perpetuated, it cannont be too long delayed. The Truckee Chamber of Commerce, we feel sure, will want to handle local arrangements but naturally will seek help from the many other organizations of California in the task.

Which reminds us that the situation concerning the sale of the water of Donner Lake has not yet been explained to the satisfaction of the people most vitally concerned—the people of Truckee and vicinity, who apparently hope that some outside agency or an act of the gods will adjust the matter for them. We believe that outside agencies should and will assist in correcting the situation but can we expect outside help if we remain idle until the damage is done? Your chamber of commerce is doing what it can, but it needs your support and suggestions. About the only support thus far offered was from a man in the service who vigorously protests the proposed or actual sale.

Workmen Escape Death As Trains Crash In Truckee

One Broken Finger Is Only Casualty In Local Accident

One Mexican Southern Pacific extra gang employe suffered a broken finger and a second was bruised and shaken up yesterday morning when a east-bound freight train crashed into the rear of a work train parked on the main line track immediately in front of the freight station here.

One of the work train cars was demolished almost completely, two others were badly damaged and the caboose which withstood the first shock of the crash, was only derailed and a door broken. The first four cars ahead of the caboose were not damaged materially.

The engineer and fireman on the freight train leaped from the cab before it struck and were not hurt.

The score or more of Mexican work men who were occupying the work train a few minutes before the mishap were outside and scrambled to safety before the collision. Only two remained inside and suffered the minor injuries.

No explanation was given for the accident which occurred about 8 a.m.

The wrecker from Sparks arrived a short time later to clear the wreckage from the tracks. Traffic was not delayed as trains used the house track pending removal of the damaged cars.

Harry Drockert, in charge of the Brockway riding stables, was fined $20 Monday by Justice of the Peace Evelyn Bliss of Tahoe City, for not complying with the provisions of his campfire permit, Ranger H. Patrolman Joe Talbot who apprehended Drockert July 22, said he had previously warned him to be more careful about the places he had been preparing for his campfire.

LOST FISHERMAN FOUND AFTER SEARCH AT TAHOE

TAHOE CITY, July 29—Constable Harry Johanson of Tahoe on Friday afternoon was called upon to organize a possee to search for Bob Campbel, about 30, a resident of the Tahoe Cedars tract, who had not returned home Thursday night after going fishing on Thursday afternoon to Miller Lake. A nine-man posse composed of Game Warden Bil LaMarr, Dr. C. C. eBrwick and son, D. Berwick, summer visitors from the Tahoe Park area J. E. oPmin of Idlewild, Otis Husey of Tall Pines, Dick Carnell, Bob Hakness and Wilbur Johnson, were led by Constable Johanson into the Rubicon country, where near Rubicon Park, eight miles from the highway, they found Campbell's car parked. From there on they spread out into groups of three, searching the Barker Creek and West Meadows area and Cothrin Cove. Late in the afternoon they found his tracks near Barker Pass. Shortly afterward they encountered a sheepherder who said he had directed Campbell to the proper trail over Barker Pass leading to Blackwood Canyon. One man trailed him to the highway to be sure he got home and the others returned to the crest of Rubicon Valley where their cars were parked. The lost man returned to his home Friday afternoon, exhausted and hungry but none the orse for his experience.

Your electric water heater is built to give you many, many years of carefree service. It will, however, last longer if not abused.
One abuse of an electric water heater is raising water temperature higher than 140° F. For general household use the thermostat on the water heater should be set between 120° F and 140° F; 130° F is usually satisfactory. Excessive water temperature is a cause of limed-up pipes and tank corrosion.
Check any dripping faucets, especially hot water faucets. A new washer will stop waste of water and electricity. A faucet dripping 90 drops a minute will waste 310 gallons of water a month.

TAHOE LETTER

* * * *

To the Service Men

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, Calif., July 26

Dear Tahoeites:

I am writing you this Monday morning in anything but comfort, a condition shared by many of you in the past I am sure, for yesterday I succumbed to the pleas of my neighbors to don a bathing suit and acquire a lovely suntan. After much persuasion I dug out an old one and joined them. But I learned to my sorrow that this is one instance at least, where "if a little bit is good, a whole lot is NOT better!" So today I am paying for my folly, although it was fun at the time.

Grand weather still continues and a large number of people are finding their way to the lake for vacations. According to a recent survey by the Sierra Pacific Power Company, just 50 per cent of the Tahoe summer homes are open for the season. Resorts report business continuing fair, with some enjoying exceptional patronage. And despite its remoteness, the Tahoe region has been witnessing long lines of army convoys, practicing war maneuvers at various points here. Seventy-five men spent Saturday and Sunday at the Tahoe Park campgrounds, one half-day of their visit being permitted for relaxation and leisure. Many enjoyed boat rides, swimming, fishing and hiking. All highly complimented Tahoe's beauty and weather.

Last week it was my extreme good fortune to assist in entertaining one of Uncle Sam's feminine fliers, Mrs. James Easton, wife of a Tahoe boy. He is the grandson of Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. John Kvistberg of Avalon and Tahoe Park. Now holding the rating of second mate, he hopes to receive soon his first mate's papers. His ship recently was torpedoed while in batttle and all his belongings were lost, although the ship did not sink. He was last heard from at an eastern port, where the boat was being reconditioned for service. Jane Easton, tall, blonde and blue-eyed, arrived last Saturday at Mrs. Kvistberg's home for her first visit to Tahoe, later coming to the beach at Unaliyi for a swim and social afternoon, followed by a delightful buffet supper, hosted by Mrs. Elsie Druhn and Miss Elizabeth Nenonen. Other guests included Captain Hans aMnsen of Rubicon Lodge, Mrs. Kvistberg and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson and son, Jimmie.

In tracing Jane's career as a flier, I earned that she was the only girl in her class at Alpine, Texas, to take up flying, but she soon acquired a great love for her chosen vocation, turning in the highest marks for the entire group. In due time she acquired her private pilot's license and for the past six months has been serving as instructor at the naval air training station at Corpus Christi, Texas. But she is not content to rest on these laurels, and so on August 9 she wil enter the Women's Flying Training Detachment at Avenger Field, Swetwater, Texas. Following a course of between five to seven months there she will emerge as a ferry pilot for continental duty. A recent issue of Life magazine gives a synopsis of the vital work these Swettwater women are doing and Jane is proud and eager to join them. Her mother, Mrs. Camilla Henderson of Hollywood, is one of her most ardent admirers, having been responsible for Jane's flying career from the first. It is with pleasure that we Tahoeites will watch the progress of this slim, gracious girl from Texas who left a wealth of warm admiration in the hearts of all who met her.

Both good and bad luck visited the A. M. Anderson home in town within the week. The good luck came in the return of son, Jack, on Tuesday, from the Kansas City aircraft factory where he had been working for some months past. The bad luck arrived on Saturday when the family's pet English setter, Speck, a familiar figure for the past 13 years on Tahoe thoroughfares, was run over and killed by a truck. Old Speck had gone to sleep beneath the car in the shade, and the driver had failed to note his presence until too late. He was laid to rest in a field of wild anemones near the quaint little Tahoe cemetery above the golf links, but not without the shedding of tears and the tightening of throats by the family he left behind.

On Tuesday last the heavens were rent with the rcash of thunder as lightning streaked across the sky, followed by a heavy downpour of rain and hail. The Tahoe Park fire suppresion crew was called out to fight a fire started by lightning in the vicinity of Stanford Rock, up Ward Creek way. Small damage was done, although the fire was not entirely extinguished until Thursday. Several other spot fires were reported, but either they burned themselves out or were false alarms. A call for help from nothern California sent Tahoe's Ralph Preece to that area, along with H. I. Snyder and Lyle Smith of Truckee, to assist in quelling something like 150 small fires. The boys enjoyed the trip via plane, a novelty for them.

Serious damage was also averted at the resort of the Ben Callenders at Homewood last Saturday, due to prompt and efficient action by them. A cabin was rented about midnight to tourists, who proceeded to make a fire in the small stove in one room. They afterwards related they smelled smoke several hours later, but saw nothing unusual and went back to sleep. About 5:30, however, they were again awakened and this time the room was thick with smoke. The man threw the front door open to call for help and the place burst into flame immediately. A passing motorist woke the Callenders and both Ben and his son, Bilie, dashed after a hose, hich soon had the fire under control. Damage was confined to the vicinity of the stove and will not exceed several hundred dollars.

From the Grass Valley Union we learn this morning that the rumor we have been hearing for weeks has at last emerged into an actual truth. That is regarding the conversion of that famous resort, Cal-Neva, on the northern California-Nevada line, into a convalescent home for service men, invalided home from the battle fronts. I wonder how many of its ex-patrons wil return in uniform to rest and relax under its spacious roofs which not so long ago echoed ith the laughter of dinners and dancers and the clink of gaming silver!

I close this week's news letter with orchids to the Don Gilmores of Lake Forest Unit No. 3, who last week picked up a dozen of the service men from a nearby camp and took them to their home for a fun-fest! They were ropally entertained with speedboat rides and aquaplaning all fternoone. Here's hoping their kindly gesture will be emulted by other homeowners on the ake in a position to entertain.

Leave you aagin ith all good wishes and every blessing from the folks back home. May good health and firm ocurage abide with all of you.

Yours for iVctory and ePace in 1943! As ever . . . Swanee.

NEWLYWEDS FETED AT TAHOE CHARIVARI

TAHOE PARK, July 29.—The forest at Tahoe Park rang with the discordant clang of cowbells a week ago Friday night about 8 o'colck as a gala throng of friends descended upon the honeymoon cote of the Theodore Schleuters, bent upon celebrating the marriage of that popular pair which took place a short time previously.

Not for many moons has such a charivari been staged in these parts and the crowd made the most of their opportunity. It was a complete surprise to the Schlueters who that after noon had motored to Eagle Falls for a picnic with friends. Theses included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stafford, Oakland, Grace Ramsey of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Sullivan of Santa Rosa and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Scammel of Oakland, all of whom knew of the proposed activities. The bewildered newlyweds threw open their doors and entertained the group until midnight, the bride exhibiting to her lady visitors her lovely chest of handiwork linens, while the host hustled refreshments and smokes. Slim Gordon of the Tahoe Park campgrounds was on hand with his harmonica to provide musical accompaniment for the singing of popular songs and a grand evening was enjoyed by all.

Among those present besides those perviously mentioned were Dr. and Mrs. Guy Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Porter all of Oakland, Gladys Templeton, Fred Manley, Mr. and Mrs. William Lambert, Mrs. Fitzgerald of Waleswood, Mrs. Friday, Mr and Mrs. Arthur Couillard of Donner Summit Lodge and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Buell of Truckee.
